

Plans and Processes to Get Your Book Written (Writing Lessons from the Front 6)

So you want to write a book . . . where do you start? Veteran writer Angela Hunt discusses everything that needs to be done away from your manuscript: conceptualizing, identifying the genre, research, scheduling, drafting, critiquing, and publishing. So whether you want to write nonfiction or fiction, you should find something to help you get your book written. Enjoy this writing lesson for a fraction of the cost of attending one of Angelas writing classes--your writing will never be the same.
